CONOR HARRINGTON THE BLIND EXIT

PRESS RELEASE

HENI releases limited edition Conor Harrington print The Blind Exit

HENI Editions releases The Blind Exit, a new limited edition print by Irish artist Conor Harrington. For the first time, the artist's distinct blend of street art and traditional paint is brought to a new medium using a special 28-colour screen printing technique. The prints are available to apply for on HENI Editions from 30 November until 5 December 2023 at 17:00 GMT.

The artworks are unframed silkscreen prints on Somerset Satin Cotton, printed in 28 colours, with a high gloss varnish finish, each measuring 125 x 99.5 cm. The Blind Exit is available as an edition of 100 plus 10 artist proofs. The artworks are signed and numbered on the front by the artist.

Harrington's work frequently examines national identity, using strong colours with thought provoking imagery to create both visual and ideological contrasts. Using a complex and labour-intensive 28-colour separation method, this printing technique gives the editions a stunning clarity of form and vibrancy. The artwork has existed as both an oil painting and mural before being made into a 28-layer screen print.

As the artist said, 'I also painted this scene on a wall on Trafalgar Rd in Greenwich, an area famous for its maritime history. You'll find the Cutty Sark there as well as the Royal Naval College. It's a part of London with a very strong connection to Britain's empire past so I thought it would be a very interesting part of London to paint the mural.'

The Blind Exit* is on display at the HENI Gallery, 1st Floor, 6–10 Lexington St, London W1F 0LB. The gallery is open Monday to Friday, from 10am–6pm. Admission to the gallery is free, with no appointment required.
