2. Summary

- 2.1. In the month of January, 194 sales of The Currency were made, totalling 1,002 ETH ($2,998,617 USD). The sales represent a 19% increase in volume in ETH (10.6% decrease in USD) compared to December, when turnover was 842 ETH ($3,353,692 USD) from 210 sales.
- 2.2. The average price in January was 5.17 ETH ($15,456.79 USD), which was 28.8% higher than the average 4.01 ETH ($15,969.96 USD) achieved in December (3.2% lower in USD).
- 2.3. Tenders were trading at around 4.8-5.5 ETH during January. The median price at the end of the month was 5.09 ETH, 1.7% lower compared to the start of the month (5.18 ETH).

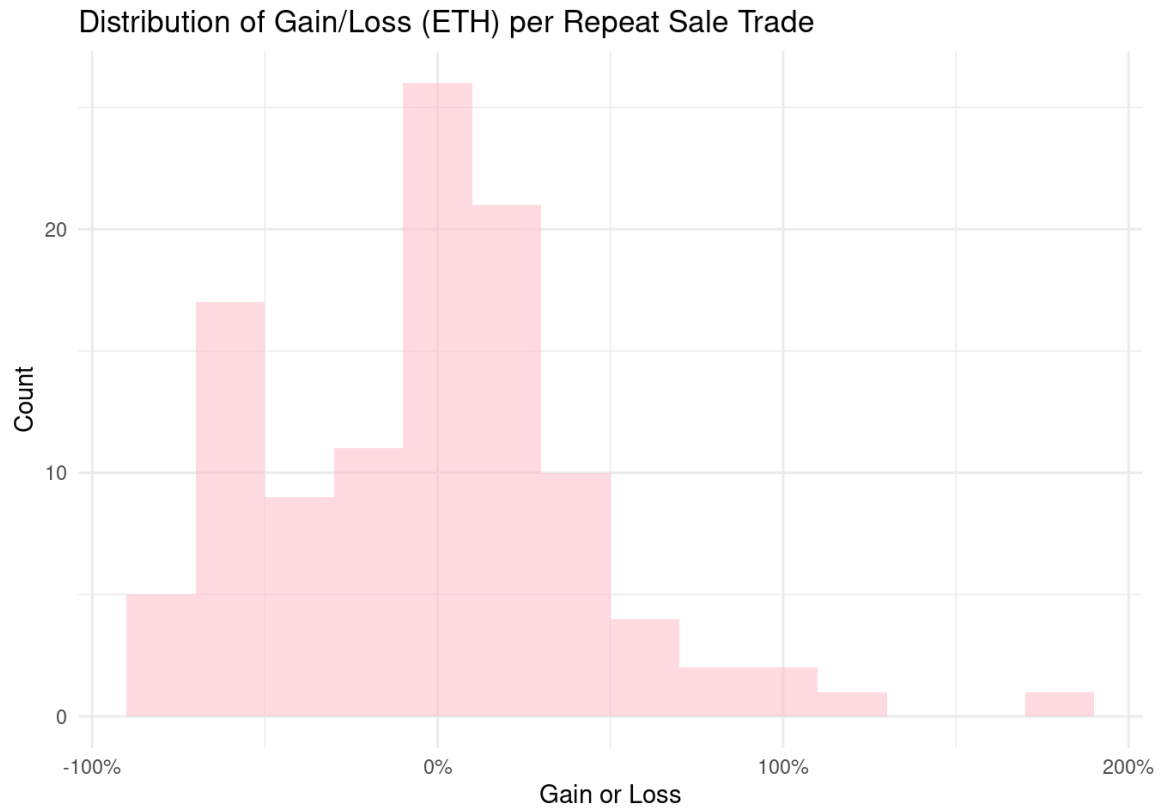

- 2.4. As of 31st January, 7,386 wallets owned The Currency NFT, compared to 7,451 on 1st January.
- 2.5. 316 wallet addresses bought or sold at least one work in January. There were 157 unique buyer and 176 unique seller addresses. There were 122 new owners in January.

2.6. There were 109 repeat sales (bought and sold on the secondary market) of The Currency in January, with a median holding time of 75 days.

2.6.1. The median return for the seller was -2%.

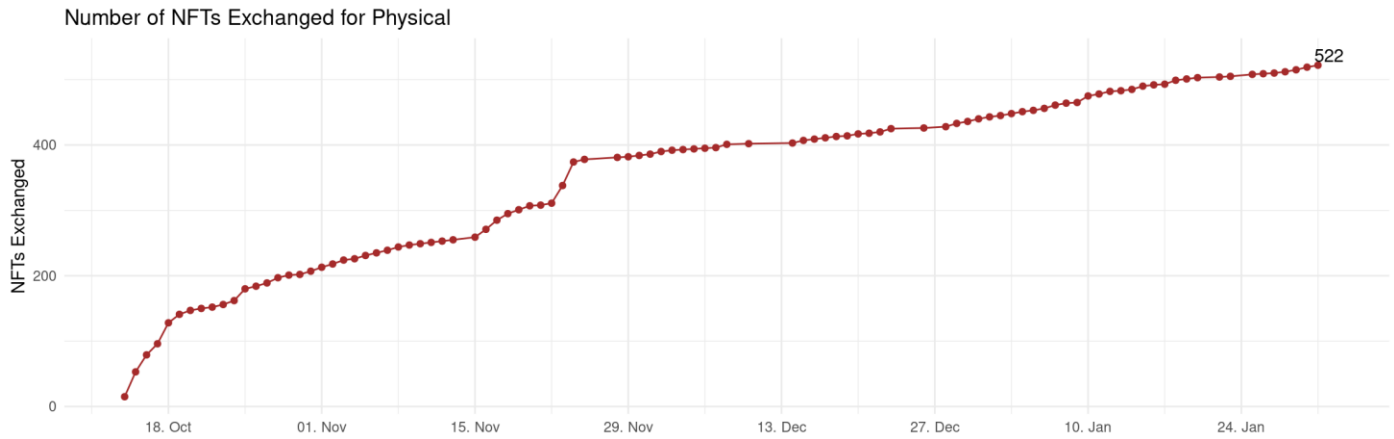

2.6.2. The bottom 20% of the 109 trades lost more than 50% for the seller.

2.6.3. The top 20% of the 109 trades made more than 29% for the seller.

3. Exchange Period

3.1. Holders of an NFT were able to exchange for the physical artwork from 14th October. By 31st January, 522 NFTs had been exchanged for the physical artwork. 82 NFTs were exchanged for the physical in January compared to 56 in December and 177 in November. NFTs were exchanged by 76 unique wallets. Only five wallets exchanged more than one NFT.

3.2. The following wallets exchanged more than one NFT for the physical last month. This activity is shown in the following table.

Wallet	Current Position	Bought	Sold	Acquired at IPO	Exchanged to Physical
1 CoconutCollector	0	3	0	0	3
2 0x310659	0	3	0	1	4

4. Market Activity

4.1. In the month of January, 194 sales of The Currency were made, totalling 1,002 ETH ($2,998,617 USD). The sales represent a 19% increase in volume in ETH (10.6% decrease in USD), compared to December, when the turnover was 842 ETH ($3,353,692 USD) from 210 sales.

4.2. The average price in January was 5.17 ETH ($15,456.79 USD), which was 28.8% higher than the 4.01 ETH ($15,969.96 USD) achieved in December (3.2% lower in USD).

4.3. The top three prices paid in January were:

4.3.1. 10.99 ETH ($34,296 USD) for #6196. Stop fucking around (18th January)

4.3.2. 7.5 ETH ($17,790 USD) for #5422. What about me? (27th January)

4.3.3. 7.5 ETH ($23,041 USD) for #980. And if it all ends on the same day (19th January)

4.4. The chart below plots each sale as a dot against its price in ETH.

Sales of The Currency (ETH)

Total sold: 194, turnover: ETH 1,002.

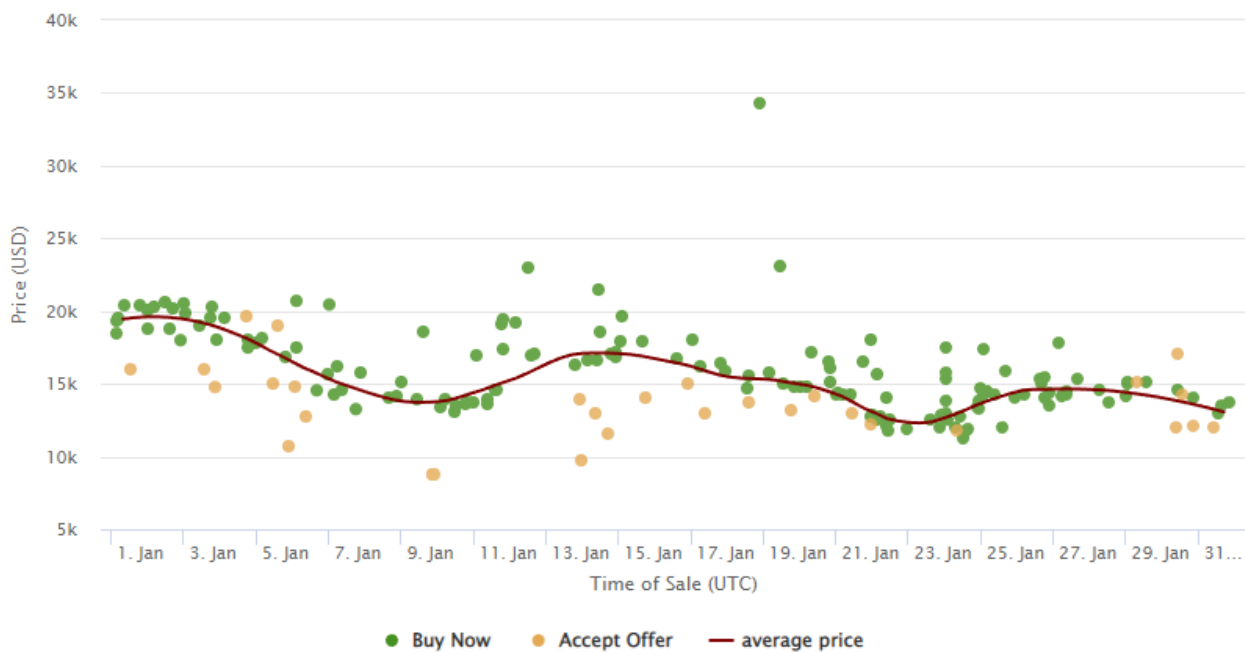

4.5. The yellow dots represent sales that have been made below the asking price of the work, and the green dots are sales made at the asking price. Of 194 sales, 31 (16%) were made below the asking price in January, compared to 30 sales out of 210 (14%) in December.

4.6. The maroon line is the smoothed price average (fitted using loess after ignoring the top three highest sales). The average price fluctuated between 4.5-5.8 ETH throughout the month.

- 4.7. This is the same chart as above, but sale prices have been converted to USD to negate the effect of ETH/USD movements. Whereas ETH prices have fluctuated, the dip in USD prices is more apparent as the ETH/USD rate continued to drop during January. Prices fell from highs of around $20k at the start of the month to below $15k at the end of the month.

Sales of The Currency (USD)

Total sold: 189, turnover: USD 2,932,432.

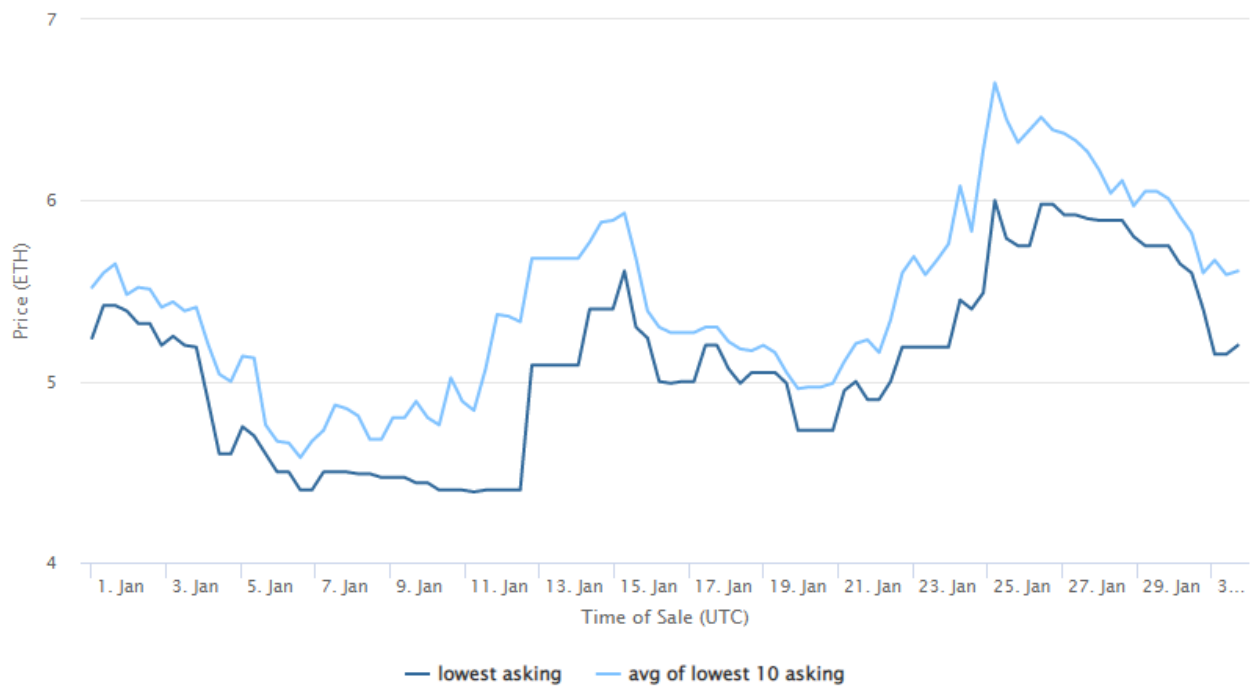

Floor prices

- 4.8. The chart below tracks the lowest asking price ('floor') and the average of the ten lowest asking prices of The Currency throughout time (OpenSea only). The average of the ten lowest asking prices represents the depth of the floor and is more robust to outlier asking prices.
- 4.9. If the average of the ten lowest priced works is much higher than the floor, the floor price could move up very quickly as there is not enough liquidity at the floor price. The average of the ten lowest priced works is also resistant to noise caused by distressed sellers.

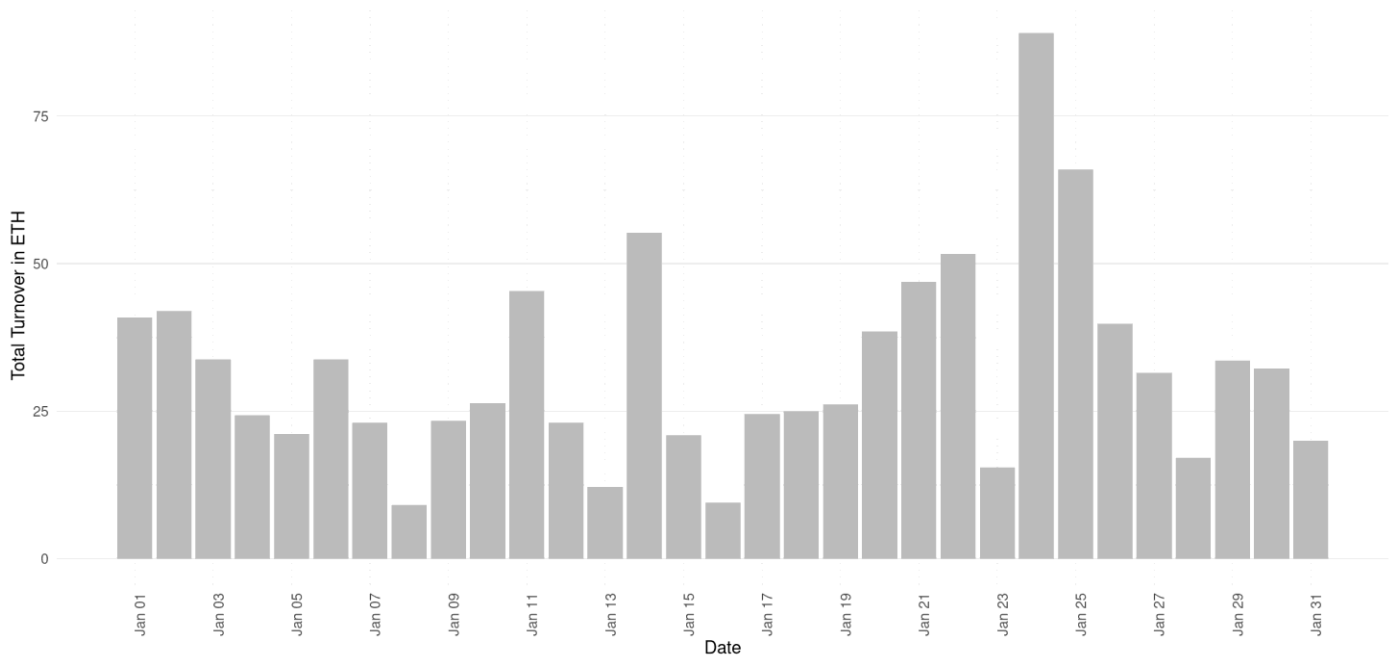

Floor Prices of The Currency on OpenSea

Floor Price Over Time

4.10. The trend on the floor is similar to the average prices in ETH. OpenSea floor was around 5.24 ETH at the start of January and 5.2 ETH at the end.

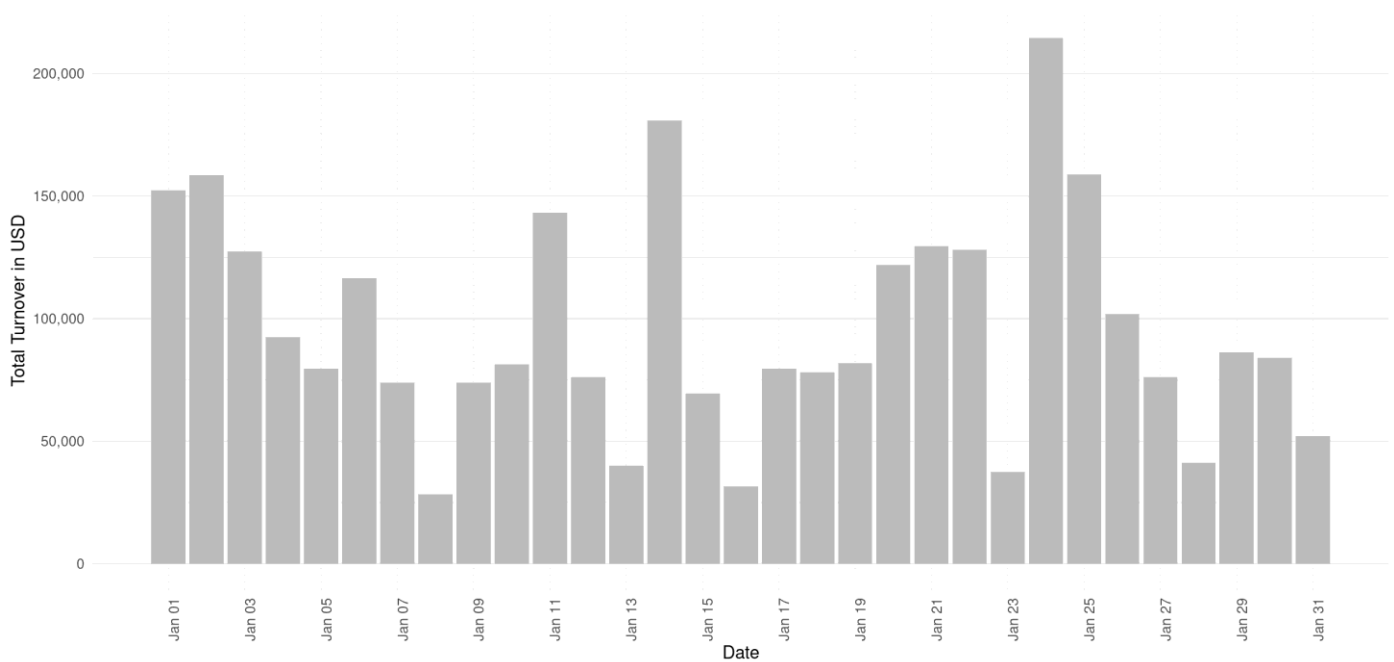

Daily Turnover in ETH

4.11. The daily turnover ranged between 12 and 55 ETH for most of January with a peak of 89.14 ETH on 24th January.

Daily Turnover in USD

4.12. See below the turnover with all prices converted to USD.

Trades made on Buy Now price vs Accept Offer

4.13. Most trades occur at the 'Buy Now' price on the OpenSea and HENI marketplaces. However, there are several trades that occur through the 'Accept Offer' function. The proportion of Buy Now vs Accept Offer trades per day can be seen below.

Most active days of the week

4.14. The table below shows the total turnover in ETH by day of the week. In the month of January, Mondays were the most active days. Wednesdays were the least active.

Day of Week	Turnover (ETH)	# of Sales
Mon	193.76	38
Tue	160.82	29
Sat	156.09	30

Price movements of The Currency vs ETH.

4.16. The charts below plot the prices of ETH and The Currency from August to the end of January.

ETH/USD Price (daily open/close)

4.17. ETH/USD opened January at around $3,700 and closed at around $2,700, marking a 27% reduction.

The Currency prices (daily median, in USD)

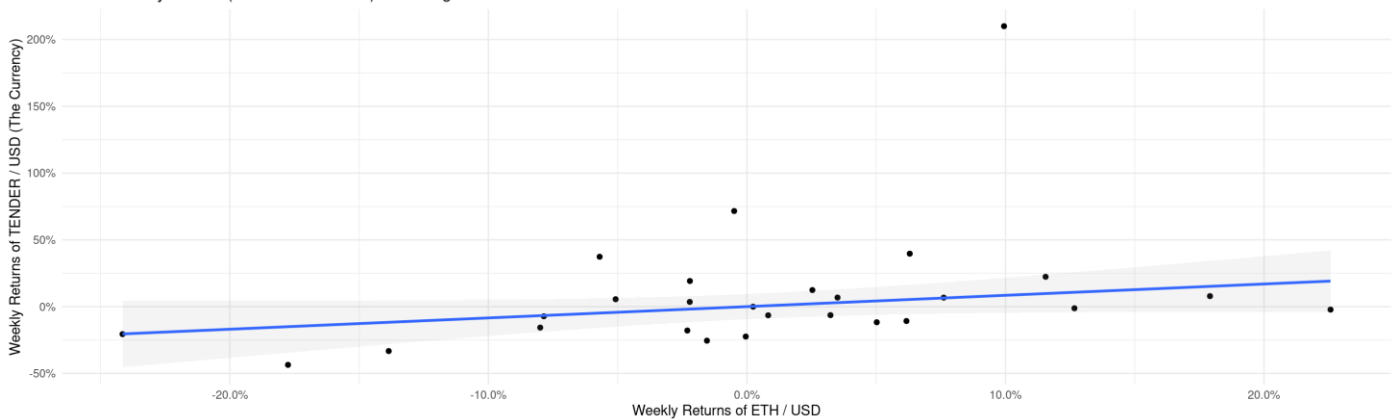

4.18. The chart below shows the return of ETH/USD against The Currency (in USD) on a daily basis. We can see that during volatile days when ETH/USD moves more than 5%, the price of The Currency (in USD) goes down.

August - Today

4.19. The chart below plots the return of ETH against The Currency on a weekly basis. We observe a slight positive correlation between the weekly returns of ETH/USD against The Currency/USD.

Comparison of The Currency with other NFT projects

4.20. We compare the total volume of sales of The Currency with that of four other popular NFT projects. Note, the y axis is unique to each project due to the different range of prices. LooksRare sales for Meebits were ignored because of wash trading on the platform.

4.21. Note: All sale prices have been converted to ETH based on the rate at the time of sale.

Daily Turnover of popular NFT projects

4.22. In January, all five NFT projects had slightly bigger volumes compared to December.

4.23. The chart below shows the daily median price for each project. Please note, the y axis is different due to varying levels of median prices. LooksRare sales for Meebits were ignored because of wash trading on the platform.

Daily Median Prices of Popular NFT Projects

4.24. The median price of Bored Ape Yacht Club continued to increase rapidly, clearly overtaking CryptoPunks and finishing the month at 120 ETH.

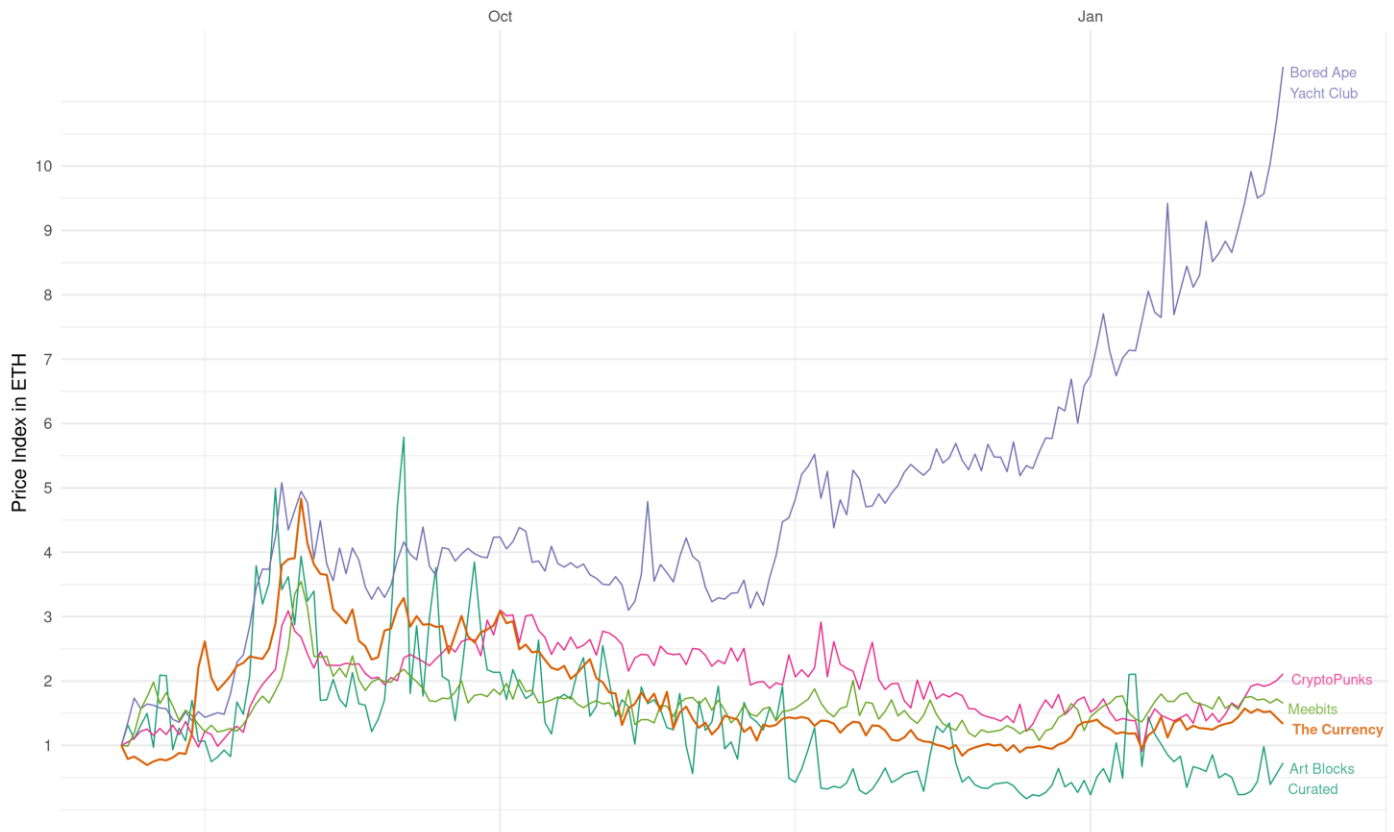

4.25. Conversely, the median price for CryptoPunks had a rough start to the year, dipping from 80 ETH just before the New Year to around 60 ETH by mid-month. CryptoPunks made a strong recovery, reaching 94 ETH by the end of the month.

4.26. Meebits and The Currency prices were volatile during the crypto market crash at the start of the month and finished the month at roughly similar ETH prices.

4.27. The daily median price for works from the Art Blocks Curated set had some high sales at the start of the month, with its median price coming close to 5 ETH on 6th and 7th January. Its median price fell to 1 ETH, which is similar to the December levels towards the end of the month.

4.28. The graph below shows the performance of 1 ETH invested in different projects since 3rd August.

Performance of 1 ETH Invested in Project
based on daily median prices

4.29. The table below shows the change of median sale price in ETH between 3rd August 2021 and 31st January 2022.

Project	Returns %
Bored Ape Yacht Club	1054.25
CryptoPunks	111.18
Meebits	65.47
The Currency	33.44
Art Blocks Curated	-27.24

Repeat sales of Tenders

- 4.30. 176 unique Tenders were traded in January over 194 sales. Out of the 176 Tenders, 91 were sold before and 85 (48%) were sold for the first time. There are 109 pairs of repeat sales where the Tender was bought on the secondary market (at any time) and sold in January.
- 4.31. The median return from the 109 pairs of sales was -2% (over the initial buy price) and the median holding period was 75 days.
- 4.32. In the following chart we analyse the gains and losses made by traders reselling Tenders in the month of January. We report all gains net of fees (7.5% at OpenSea and 5% at HENI). We do not include the cost of bridging Tenders in the gains (losses).

Performance of trades based on buying and selling marketplaces (pairs of sales)

Bought at	Sold at	# of Pairs	Mean Gain	Median Gain	Mean Holding Period (Days)	Median Holding Period (Days)
OpenSea	OpenSea	80	-11%	-7%	78	71
HENI	OpenSea	25	24%	20%	80	75
OpenSea	LooksRare	3	-25%	-21%	136	166
HENI	HENI	1	174%	174%	180	180

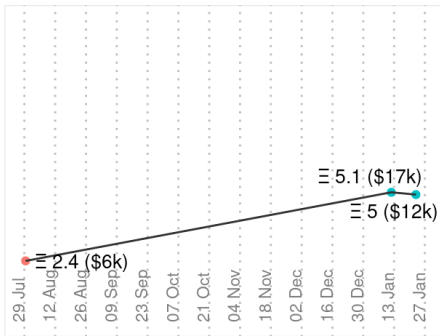

Tokens with the greatest number of repeat sales

- 4.33. The chart on the next page shows the top 12 most traded tokens (by number of repeat sales in January). The tokens are further sorted by average return if there is a tie for the most traded. The colour of the dot corresponds to the location of sale (HENI or OpenSea) and the prices are in ETH.
- 4.34. All token charts share the same x and y axis to allow for the comparison of the timelines and prices across the different Tenders.
- 4.35. The appendix lists the top 50 most traded tokens, including the 12 below.

OpenSea vs HENI Arbitrage

Profits made by arbitrageurs

4.36. In the month of January, there was just one address that carried out arbitrage between OpenSea and HENI. The table below shows their activity.

	Address / OpenSea Username	# of Sales	Average Buy Price (ETH)	ETH Spent	ETH Profit	Profit as a % of Spend	Median Profit Per Sale (as % of Buy)	Median Holding Time Per Sale (Hours)
1	HAL_9000	8	4.2	33.7	5.2	15%	17%	25.9

Performance of wallets who bought in the secondary market

4.37. There were seven wallets that sold more than one work on the secondary market in January after purchasing it on the secondary market.

	Address / OpenSea Username	# Sold	Average Buy Price (ETH)	ETH Spent	ETH Profit (Loss)	Profit/ Loss as a % of Spend	Median Profit Per Sale (as % of Buy)	Median Holding Time (Hours)

Overall				130.9	-29.1	-4%	-3%	1381.0

4.38. Compared to December when traders were taking losses (potentially due to tax reasons), a few short term traders made profits in terms of ETH in January.

Wallet activity

- 4.39. 316 wallet addresses bought or sold at least one token in January. There were 157 unique buyer and 176 unique seller addresses.
- 4.40. Of the 157 addresses who bought a token, 122 did not own a token before 1st January.
- 4.41. Of the 176 addresses that sold a token, 32 still hold at least one token and 144 have completely liquidated.

Top 25 most active addresses

- 4.42. The 25 addresses below (or OpenSea usernames, where available) were a buyer or a seller in 66 (34%) of all trades in January.

4.44. Three of the top 25 holders added to their position in January, while three reduced.

4.45. 7,386 wallet addresses owned at least one Currency NFT by the end of January. This is down by 65 from the end of December. However, 63 wallet addresses exchanged all their holdings to physical works. Hence, excluding the effect of physical exchange, the decrease in number of owners is two.

4.46. 1,899 (19% of supply) unique tokens have been sold since the inception of the project.

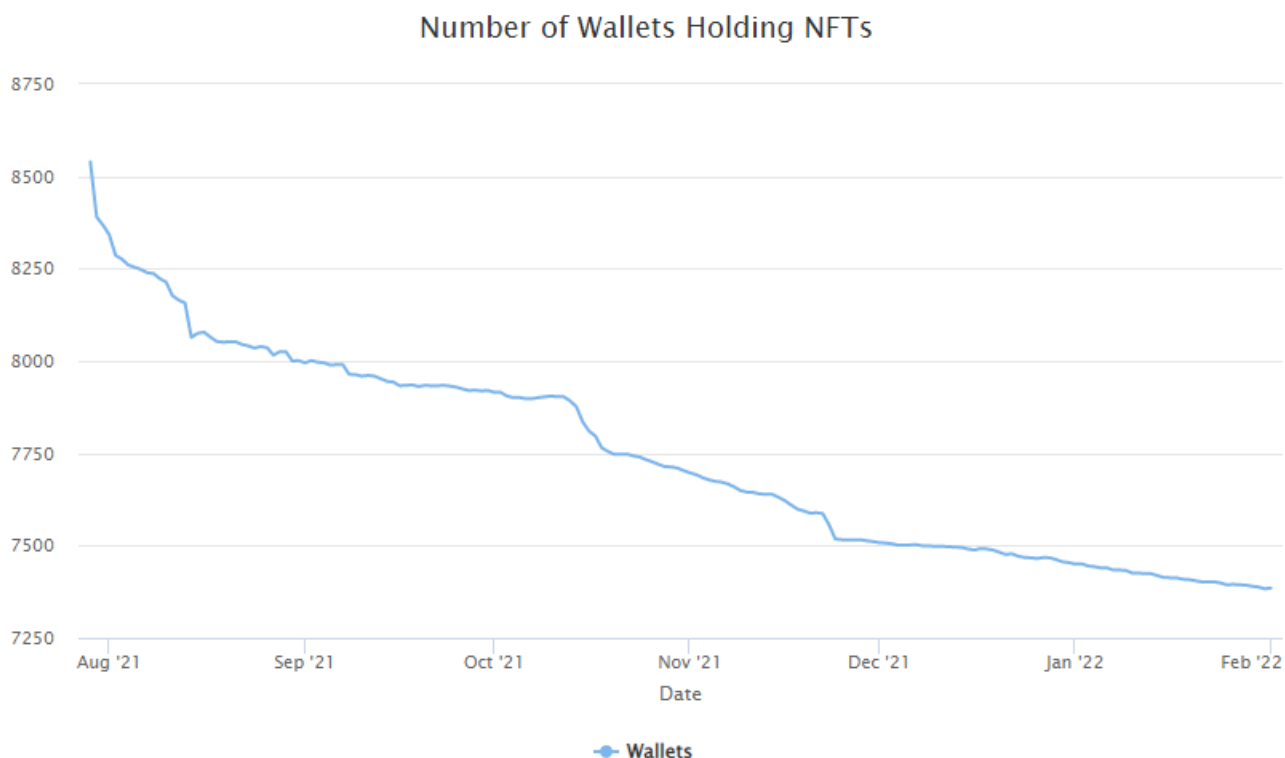

Number of tokens held by top 1,000 addresses

4.47. By the end of January, the top 250 holders owned 1,107 out of 10,000 Tenders (excluding Damien Hirst's wallet). The top 1,000 wallets owned 2,093 out of 10,000 Tenders.

Number of addresses holding Tenders over time

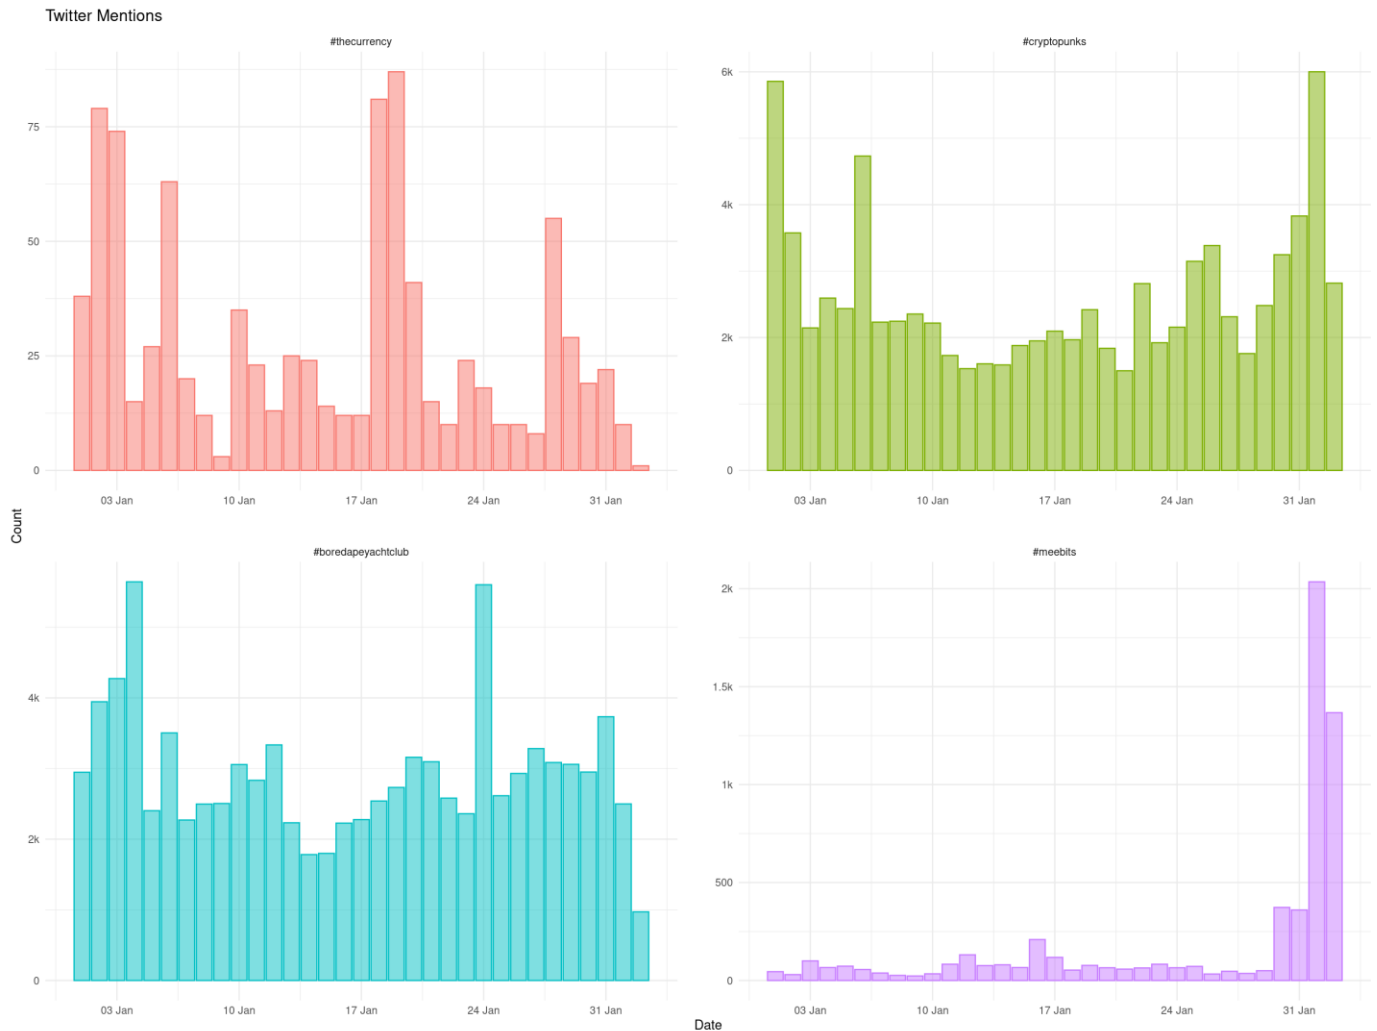

4.48. Since the secondary market opened, there has been a consolidation in the number of wallets holding Tenders. From 14th October, NFT holders were able to exchange their NFTs for physical artworks, which has reduced the number of wallets holding NFTs. As of 31st January, 7,386 wallets own a Tender.

5. Twitter and Instagram

Hashtag mentions on Twitter

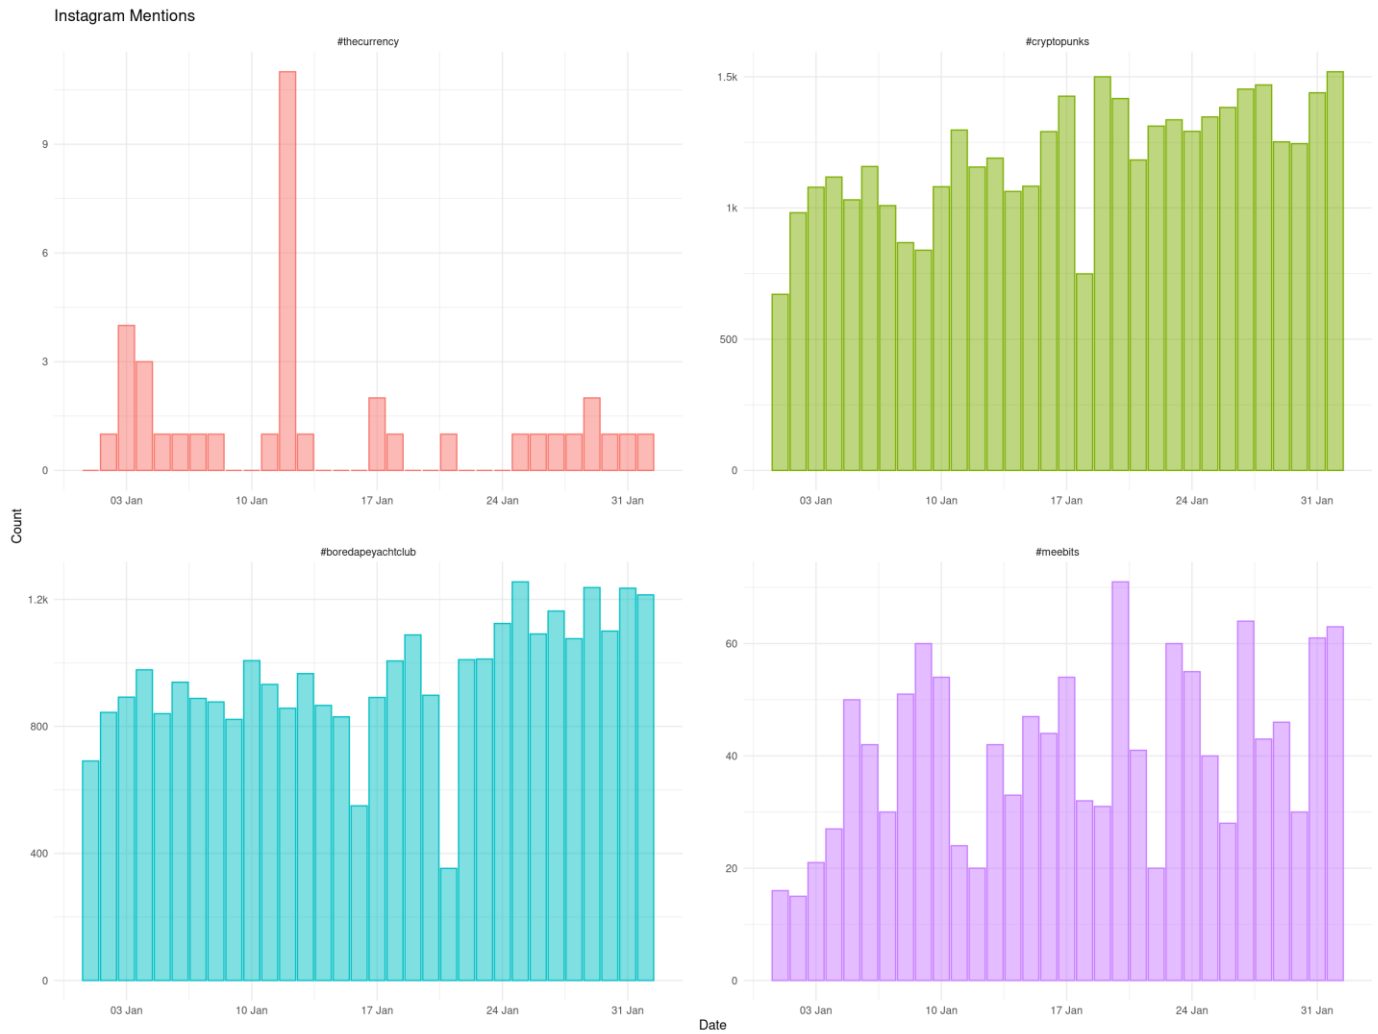

5.1. The following charts show the usage of the hashtag #thecurrency on Twitter in the past month, compared to three other notable NFT projects.

5.2. We see a spike in #thecurrency mentions on 18th and 19th January after the announcement of The Currency Chainlink oracle. The spike in #meebits mentions is due to users retweeting the same tweet for an unrelated airdrop competition.

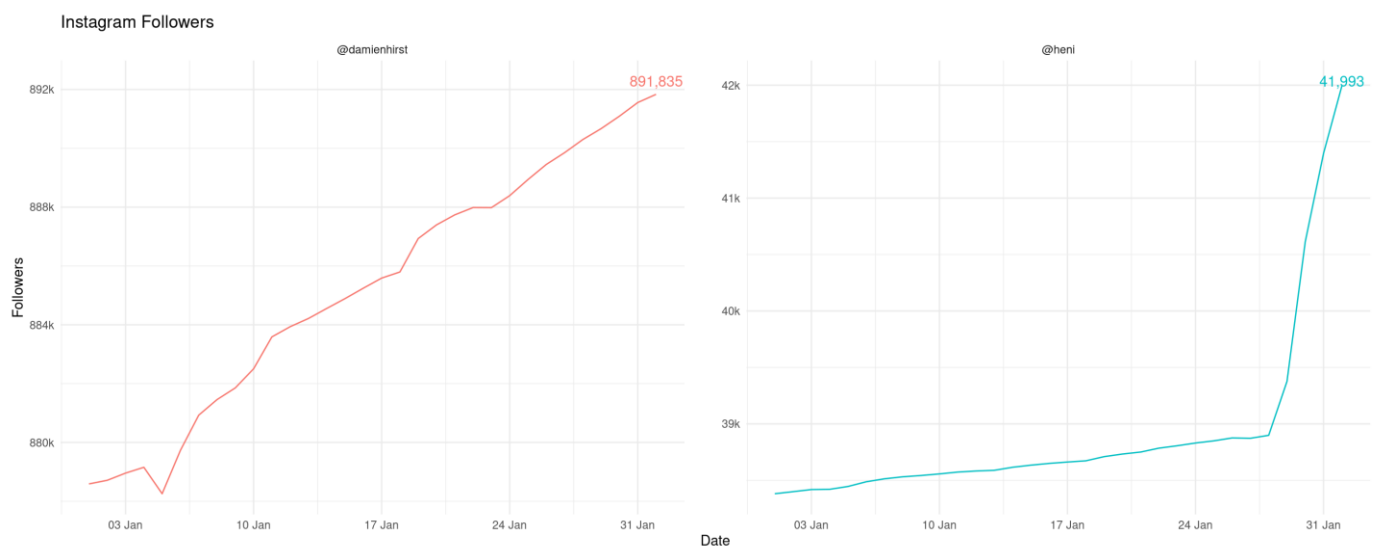

Hashtag mentions on Instagram

5.3. The following charts show the usage of the hashtag #thecurrency on Instagram in the past month, compared to three other notable NFT projects.

Following of @damienhirst and @heni on Instagram

5.4. The following chart shows Instagram followers for the @damienhirst and @heni accounts.

5.5. Both accounts continue to grow. The spike in follower growth on the @heni account was due to The Empresses print and NFT deed release.

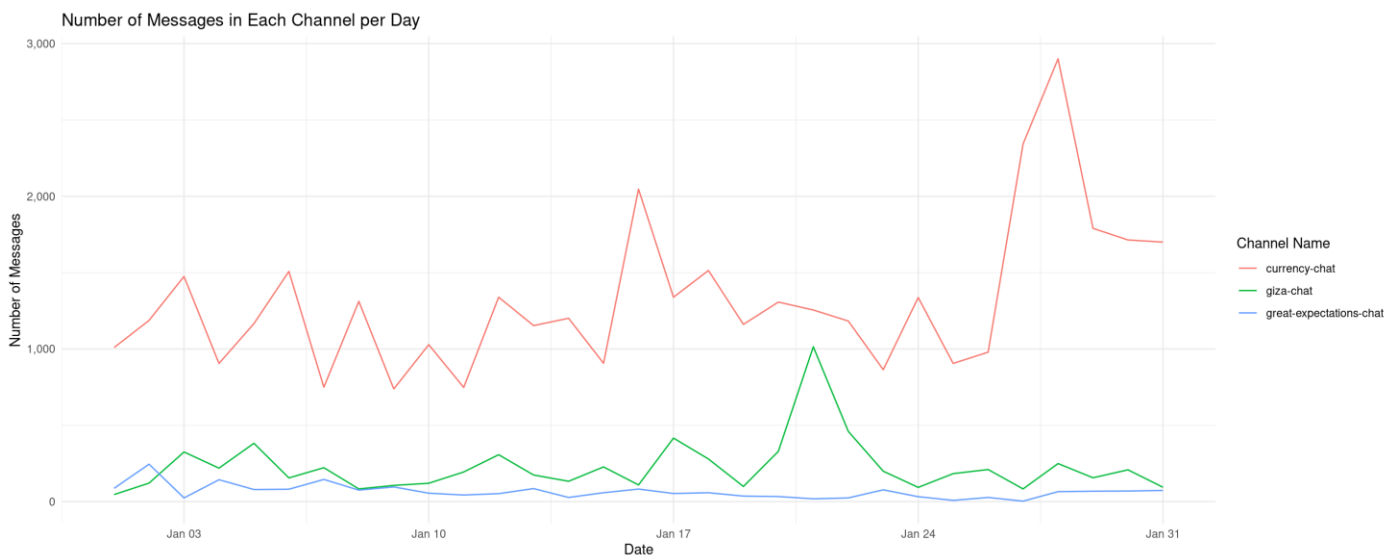

6. Discord

6.1. In this chart we show the number of messages per day on the different channels in the HENI Discord server. The channels were created to discuss each of the three current NFT projects: currency-chat, giza-chat and great-expectations-chat. The period shown is from 1st to 31st January.

6.2. At the start of the month, the currency-chat channel averaged around 1,100 messages per day. Numbers went up at the end of the month after The Empresses editions drop announcement, reaching 2,901 messages on 28th January.

6.3. great-expectations-chat had a quiet month with around 70-100 daily messages.

6.4. giza-chat had around 230 messages daily throughout January. It had a peak of 1,014 messages on 21st January, fueled by discussion with JR's team member.

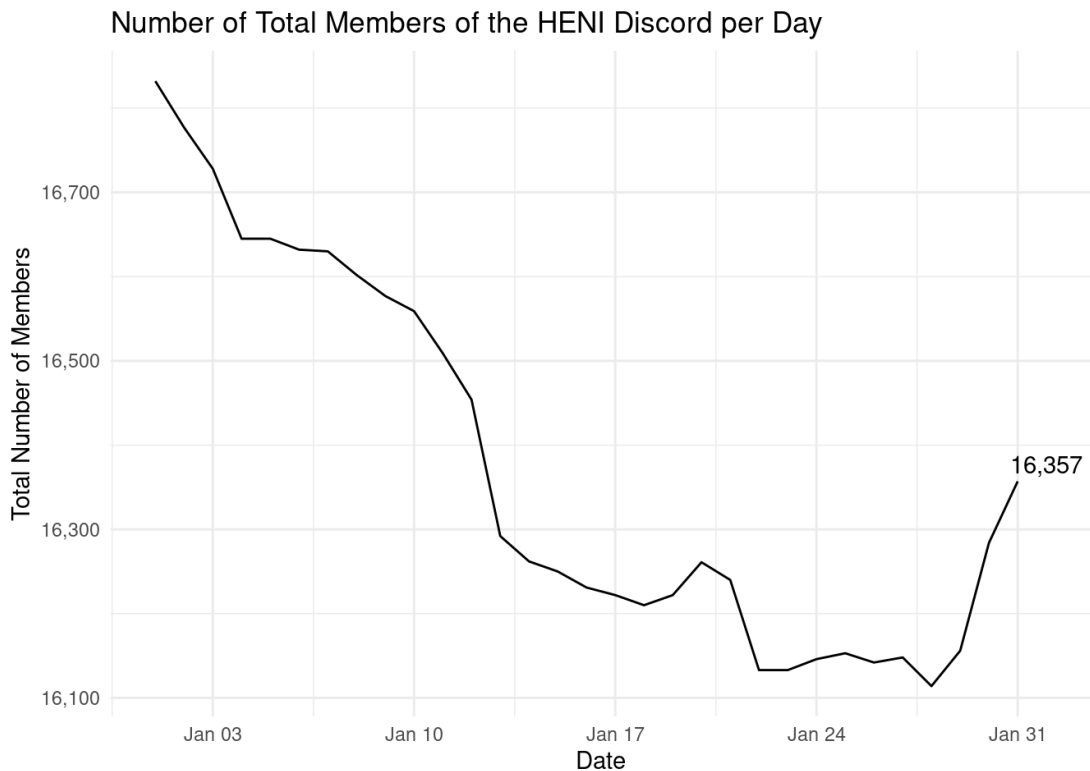

6.5. It is interesting to compare the messages on the HENI Discord server to those on the Discord servers for some of the other big NFT projects. The graph below shows a smoother comparison of the number of messages every day for each main channel on the corresponding server.

6.6. The BAYC server has seen the most activity this month, with 10-15k messages daily. The other servers have seen lower activity, with Meebits having the fewest messages, at 650 messages per day on average.

Members

6.7. The next chart shows how the total number of members of the HENI server changed throughout the month of January. Though there were 16,832 members at the start of the month, this figure dipped to 16,114 towards the end of the month, with a small uptick to 16,357 following the announcement of The Empresses drop.
